The Steadicam JR with its revolutionary compact design, is the most lightweight, affordable, easy to carry, control and store camera stabilizing system. It is ideal for the home/casual "family video" shooter or the wedding and event videographer and prosumer longing for that special "Hollywood" look. Under-the-arm shooting while still viewing the image allows instant kid-level shots as well as low mode for ground level shooting. Unlike the other Steadicam systems, the JR relies on the operator's arm and was designed to sit solidly on the operator's shoulder (when folded) allowing for more traditional shooting with the added advantage of the external view screen. The JR is compatible and digital ready for virtually all 8mm, Hi-8, VHS-C, mini DV and digital camcorders weighing 2-4 pounds.
